What is Crypto token?

A crypto token is representation of an asset or interest that has been tokenized on an existing cryptocurrency's blockchain. Crypto token and cryptocurrencies share many similarities. Crypto currencies are the native asset of a blockchain

Who We are?

Our mission is to help all liquidity providers across the DeFi space make confident investment decisions and successfully maximise their returns. To do so, we offer a wide range of membership options, including the “SIGN” membership token and various subscription plans.

Who We are?

By simply holding enough tokens in a wallet, members can automatically unlock pro features . This ensures that members who are not big portfolio holders can benefit by holding just a small amount of SIGN tokens in their wallet. As more liquidity is provided, more SIGN tokens can be added, it's that simple!

About the Insignia

SIGN token's comprehensive ecosystem and forward-thinking approach set it on a trajectory to redefine the crypto landscape. From facilitating transactions to enabling decentralized applications, SIGN token is more than just a digital asset; it's a gateway to a new financial paradigm. As the world increasingly embraces the potential of cryptocurrencies, SIGN token stands at the forefront, ready to empower individuals and businesses alike on their journey toward financial innovation.

What is SIGN token staking?

Sign token staking is when you lock crypto assets for a period of time to help and support the operation of a blockchain. With staking, you can put your digital assets to work and earn passive income without selling them. In some ways, staking is similar to depositing cash in a high-yield savings account. Banks lend out your deposits and your interest on your account balance in theory. Staking is not too different from the bank deposit model, but the analogy only goes so far. Here's what you need to know about crypto staking.
